PROFILE

Curious third-year Software Development student at WSB Merito University Wrocław with a habit of wanting to know how things actually work under the hood whether that means troubleshooting a car fault or figuring out why a piece of code broke. I led international student groups across four Erasmus+ exchanges in Greece, Germany, and Türkiye, which made me comfortable stepping up, listening to people, and solving problems together in English.

TECHNICAL SKILLS

Languages: Python (Foundational), Java (Learning), SQL (Learning), HTML, CSS, JavaScript

Tools & Platforms: Git, GitHub, Vercel, Docker, VS Code, JetBrains IDEs (PyCharm, DataGrip), Adobe Apps

PROJECTS

Taxi Fare Prediction - Python, Machine Learning — github.com/muzo-sh/taxi-fare-prediction

- Built a regression model to predict taxi trip fares from ride features, covering data cleaning, feature preprocessing, model training, and evaluation.

Machine Learning Labs - Python — github.com/muzo-sh/machine-learning-labs

- Completed university machine learning exercises implementing core supervised and unsupervised workflows, data preprocessing, and model evaluation.

Garage Log - Java 17 Console Application — github.com/muzo-sh/garage-log

- Tracks vehicle fuel and service history, calculates fuel consumption and maintenance reminders, and persists records to text files.
- Decodes OBD-II diagnostic data (coolant temperature, fault codes) with step-by-step troubleshooting checks and 55 automated unit checks.
